

Press release – May 2005

A new website for France Congrès : www.france-congres.org

The new web site for France Congrès is now online: the updated version of www.france-congres.org was designed with Kartel, and was unveiled on 10 May during the 28th France Congrès Talks. Philippe Augier, the President of our organisation, and Emmanuel FUSILLER, Deputy chief of staff to Léon BERTRAND, Minister for Tourism, were present at the event.

The France Congrès website is a new tool for organisers of conferences and professional events. This user-friendly website gives easy access to France Congrès member towns' summary presentation, allows you to do multi-criteria search, to compare towns and send them your specifications. It also provides a quick and easy link to member towns' websites and contacts.

The towns' summary presentations include information on access, hotel capacity, room capacity, economic environment, leisure, and major events.

The search engine can help you in choosing the right venue as you can specify your relevant criteria: location, auditorium capacity, room capacity, dining hall capacity, hotel capacity (per category), expo area, other activities, etc.

The venue comparison function can compare up to 3 towns on one page. You can also send your conference specification to one or more town simultaneously from our website.

The France Congrès website gives a comprehensive presentation of the organisation (structure, communications, surveys and reviews, partners) and information on the convention industry.
